Roger Lageschulte, junior, will spend a week in Washington, D.C., May 10-16 as a guest of Congressman and Mrs. Leonard Wolf, according to a recent announcement from the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House.

Lageschulte

"Week in Washington" trips are sponsored by the Institute of Public Affairs at the State University of Iowa and are bipartisan. Lageschulte is one of 20 Iowa college students participating in the political internship program this year. He will receive $100 from the Clearing House as part of his travel expenses.

Lageschulte is a Republican and will be accompanied by Democrat Thomas L. Wine of SUI.

Sing Or Swing, Pops Concert Brings Hilltoppers, Dorsey Orchestra Monday

Advocates of instrumental music and defenders of vocal music have the chance to meet on neutral ground Monday when the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra and the Hilltoppers appear in Knights Gymnasium.

The two groups will give a joint two-hour concert beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets for the performance, which is Wartburg's 1959 Pops Concert, will be available at the door, according to Fred Langrock, concert chairman.

Lee Castle, noted trumpeter, directs the orchestra, which features Bob Dumont and Jan Winters. Considered the third son of the Dorsey family, Castle took over conducting duties after the recent death of saxophonist Jimmy Dorsey.

Since deciding to become a musician, Castle has played with such personalities as Glenn Miller and Benny Goodman. He appeared with Tommy Dorsey for a time before forming his own band, "The Fabulous Dorsey Orchestra" of recent years was the amalgamation of groups directed by the Dorsey brothers and Castle.

Jimmy Dorsey, original founder of the present orchestra, is often credited with doing the most to launch the juke box industry. After sharing a band with his brother Tommy, Jimmy started his own group, which specialized in a sweet style, in 1936. In 1953 the two bands again merged.

After selling forty million records during the early part of his career, Dorsey's last hit before his death was "So Rare." His all-time best sellers include "Green Eyes" and "Besame Mucho."

The Hilltoppers is a vocal group that skyrocketed to fame on its first record. The four young men met while attending a Kentucky college and since that time have recorded "The Kentuckian Song," "P.S., I Love You" and "To Be Alone." They have also appeared on television.

Leading the Hilltoppers is Jimmy Sacca, who was a star football player in his college days. Other members of the group are Seymour Spiegelman, Don McGuire and Eddie Crowe.

Student Loans Available

National Defense Student Loan Program went into effect for Wartburg students Jan. 1, 1959. Wartburg has $1,031.11 to be used for the loans.

Loans will be available to upperclassmen who show a definite need for them and have at least a 2.5 grade point average. Application forms will soon be available in the Dean of Students' office.

Repayment begins after the borrower ceases to be a full-time student. The loans bear an interest of three per cent and are to be paid within 10 years. In case of death or total disability, the loan is canceled.

Teachers in public education may deduct 10 per cent of the principal for each year of teaching. Up to 50 per cent of the loan may be deducted in this way.

Enrollment Jumps 20

Enrollment of students for the coming school year has increased considerably over that of last year, according to Mrs. Raymond Norheim, of the Public Relations Office. As of Feb. 27, as many as 287 students have enrolled for next semester, in comparison to 267 enrolled at this time last year.

Carnival Plans, SB Project Push On

By Linda Mugridge

Campus Carnival plans are taking shape as fund raising for the 1959 Student Body Project continues, according to Project Chairman Jack Reents.

Room-to-room canvassing for the project, landscaping and movie equipment, is currently being conducted. Campaign goal is $2,500.

Get Series Tickets!

Tickets for the final Artist Series presentation of the season, a concert by Marian Anderson March 24, will be available for students Thursday and Friday. They may be obtained in the treasurer's office from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. by presentation of activity tickets.

Senate Spotlights Discussion Groups, Concert, Conference, Committee

Bible Discussion Groups, Pops Concert, a conference and the Academic Life Committee received attention from the Student Senate as the group met Monday.

Beginning some time in April, Sunday Bible Discussion Groups will be held on campus instead of at St. Paul's, according to Student Body President Jim Schwarz. The new arrangement, which was engineered by Bible Discussion Coordinator Jack Horner and the Senate Executive Committee, is for this year only.

Ticket sales for the Pops Concert have not reached expectations, according to Pops Chairman Fred Langrock. Approximately eight hundred dollars has been taken in. A total of $1,500 is needed.

Attending a luncheon in Des Moines March 21 are Schwarz, juniors Norm Litzner and Wanda Karsten and sophomore Dave Grube. The luncheon, which is designed to promote a new fund-raising scheme, is sponsored by the Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Work of the Academic Life Committee was reviewed by Chairman Dave Grube in his report. The committee has approved the presentation to the administration of a recommendation favoring pre-registration.

Library Will Be Ready For Students In April

Wartburg students should be using the new library in April, according to H. C. Engelbrecht, business manager.

At present, workers are in the process of laying the asphalt tile flooring and finishing the shelves. Draperies and furniture for the new building have already been ordered. As yet, no definite date for moving into the building has been set.

Cowboys Are Coming

"Western Roundup" is the theme of the carnival, which will be held March 21 in Knights Gymnasium. Sophomore Leroy Boseneiler is general chairman of the event.

Deadline for entering candidates for Carnival royalty is March 14, according to Boseneiler. To enter, each dormitory must have an average initial pledge of two dollars.

Auction, Cakes Return

Featured at the carnival again this year will be an auction and a cakewalk. In addition, organizations and dormitories will sponsor concessions. Deadline for concession themes, which should be given to frosh Art Baker, is March 13, according to Boseneiler.

ONE FOOT IN HEAVEN

Old Main Has Professorium

By Grace Jahn

"We like it up here because this is as close as you can get to the angels on our campus."

This historic statement was first made in a convocation about three years ago by Chaplain Edwin Schick in speaking of the new Christianity offices located on third floor, Old Main.

Any Wartburg student who has made the harrowing climb up to third floor Old Main has undoubtedly noticed that this "abode of the angels" has quite a few inhabitants.

Occupying the chaplain's office is Pastor Schick, while across the way is the counseling room. Down the line one can find Dr. Manoocher Aryanpur, English Department; the Rev. Waldeemar Gies, Christianity Department; the Rev. August Baetke, Sociology Department; and Mrs. Lola Reppert, Social Work Department.

Testing Please

Then comes Dr. Wilmut Fruehling in psychology and testing. Occupying the remaining room, except for a storeroom, are Dr. Clifford Hanson, philosophy, as well as the Rev. Karl Schmidt and the Rev. Robert Dell, both of the Christianity Department.

Previous to its location in Old Main, the Christianity Department had no offices as such. However, after the completion of the Fine Arts Center, the Music Department moved out, and the Christianity Department moved in.

At that time the department, which then consisted of Pastors Gies, Baetke, Schick and Robert Glaser, former professor, occupied only one room. Conditions are already becoming over crowded, and the department is anxiously awaiting the construction of the Chapel-Auditorium, which will contain an office for the chaplain.

Fittest Survive

Chaplain Schick, on the other hand, admits certain advantages to third floor, Old Main.

"We think it's a great laboratory for testing Darwin's theory of the survival of the fittest," he said, following this through by explaining that if one can survive the climb to third floor, then he's really fit.

If a student manages to make the climb, then he must have had some great motivation — at least that is a common belief.

Weather The Same

Although third floor is quite a distance from the ground, it is the general opinion that the weather is somewhat the same as in the lower altitudes.

IT'S A LONG way to top floor Old Main, but professors such as Karl Schmidt make the trip many times daily to their offices.

"But we are more musical, because on a windy day, the building rocks, and you can build up a certain rhythm," enlightened Schick.

Contrary to popular opinion, the third floor is not the highest spot in Old Main. Up above in the attic lurks the Wartburg museum.

On this situation the chaplain commented, "In spite of the fact that we are on the floor below the fossils, we are trying desperately to keep in touch with reality."

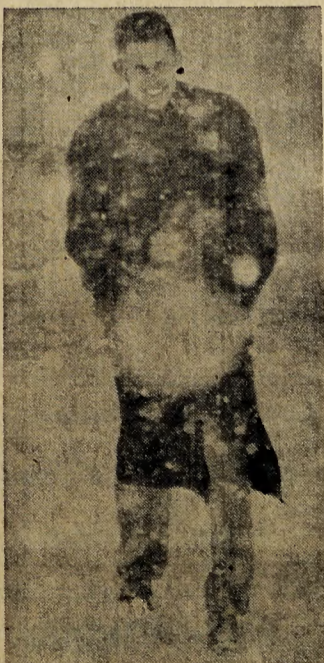

Study North Hall

One of the methods Pastor Schick uses to keep in touch with reality is observing from his office window the diligent study going on in North Hall.

The only other disadvantage of third floor, Old Main, besides the crowded conditions is the handicap of only one ashtray. "And that's Baetke's great big one."

Although the Christianity Department is really very serious, at times, when one is visiting third floor, he can observe the occasional informality and light moments enjoyed by the "angels of Old Main."

Onward!

Snow swirling all around him, wind pushing him back, Jim Adix still makes it to the Union for a daily round of pool.

EDITORIALS

Letters Are Few And Far . . .

"Letters, we get letters . . ." a familiar phrase for singer Perry Como, but it's seldom the case with the Trumpet.

Editorial content of a student newspaper thrives on letters from readers. It would be safe to say that a newspaper which fails to encourage comment, both pro and con, from those who scan its pages each issue is only half-alive.

Trumpet policy regarding letters to the editor is such that anything which does not border on libel and slander can be printed. All letters must be signed; however, names can be withheld by the request of the sender.

Letters can be of any length, can be concerned with any subject and can praise as well as criticize any element of our coverage. Editing a newspaper, especially on a college level, without the remedial effects of those concerned reader notes is comparable to "flying blind."

Just for the record, the following issues reported in the pages of the Trumpet during this school year have evoked little or no comment from any readers to date:

1. Homecoming and Homecoming criticism — no public announcement of thanks by the general chairman and no arguments pro or con about the tremendous conflicts incurred by this year's HC festivities.
2. Outfly — The general consensus of opinion must be that one of Wartburg's oldest traditions is dead on its feet, as no comment on this issue passed the office desk.
3. Lagging Chapel Attendance — Apparently all readers were satisfied with the early fall change which reverted evening worship services back to one service per day; however, no comment was heard.
4. Student Apathy — The most thoroughly talked about topic of the year in college circles across the country aroused only a few letters about "campus suit-casism" early in the year. Apparently, the apathetic do not write letters either.
5. Safety Campaign — Safe-driving was a staff issue for a month preceding the Christmas Holidays without arousing a printed word of interest or complaint from any subscriber. A few parents expressed personal thanks to staff members.

So much for only a few past issues but what about the future? What should arouse real interest?

In the coming year, administrative policies concerning the new chapel-auditorium and its use, a complete revamping of convocation and chapel planning and extended policies on the use of the new library will be formulated. Increasing difficulties in the area of studies or lethargy versus extra-curricular activities is still a major problem at Wartburg. There are many more.

This is your chance to redeem yourself. Use this paper, your newspaper, as an outlet for personal opinion or as a release for criticism. It's your privilege, why not exercise your arm of opinion?

"Letters, we get letters," but they're never from you.

Lent is A Time To Make Ready

Lent is a season for reflecting upon the basic tenets of the Christian faith.

It was our Lord's wish the Last Supper be prepared as recorded in Luke, "When ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in . . . And ye shall say unto the Goodman of the house, 'The Master saith unto thee, where is the guest-chamber where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?' And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished; there make ready."

We should, in this Lenten season, make ready the upper rooms of our hearts to vicariously follow Christ on the road marked by history to Calvary. Then, in triumph, we may feel the glory of the coming Easter morning.

Lent is a time to review the significance of eternal life, not simply as an annual tradition, but as the heart of the integral workings of our faith.

Over the clatter of cafeteria eating comes a male voice, ringing with sincerity: "I'll be so glad when spring comes. Then the girls will stop wearing those hideous black tights."

Mission Talk

By Kriesel, Munter
And Schroeder

●Speaking of basketball, the American Lutheran cage team of Lutheran Mission New Guinea was defeated for the first time last year by a score of 39-32. The win went to the Lae All-Stars of Lae, New Guinea. In the three previous meetings the All-Stars bowed to the Mission squad under the scoring leadership of Jack Reents, now a Wartburg senior.

●The annual conference of Lutheran Mission New Guinea was held at Wau from Jan. 27 to Feb. 5. It is here that the problems of the Mission, individual missionaries, etc., are threshed out and usually solved. After problems and all reports are taken care of, new members are stationed and some old members are transferred.

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

Thursday night, as usual, found us at our typewriter attempting to pound out the 30 lines or more which we needed to fill the column spot. This week we started out strong with the theme of Iowa weather flowing rapidly across the copy sheets; however, this proved to be too good to be true because our beloved editor remarked (after line 15), "Try to stay away from the weather theme this week because we will probably run an editorial on weather." So it is with apologies to him that we print the following:

A Student

A student stood at the Golden Gate;
His head was bent and low.
He meekly asked the man of fate
Which way he should go.
"What have you done," St. Peter said,
"To seek admission here?"
"I withstood Iowa weather," said he,
"For many and many a year."
St. Peter opened wide the gate
And beamed on him as well.
"Come in and choose a harp," said he,
"You've had your share of Iowa weather!"

Recently in a North Hall bull-session the topic of the respective merits of Iowa's colleges was being discussed. The one point on which everyone agreed was that Wartburg, prof for prof, has one of the best faculties in the state. Dr. Ottersberg's lecture in Thursday's convo did much to prove this point. After convo we heard a variety of comments—

"Boy, that Ottersberg has a lot of 'smarts', and he quit talking at 10 minutes to 11."

"I have Dr. Ottersberg for a class, and all his lectures are interesting, but somehow I feel as if I have been cheated out of 10 minutes of lecture."

Speaking of convos, we are anxiously awaiting the convo in which the grade points of the various housing units are announced. According to campus talk, we predict that Ketha will be on top with its unofficial 2.8. This just proves that a house that buddies together, studies together. Incidentally, the Ketha boys are still willing to trade their obsolete bathtub for a modern shower.

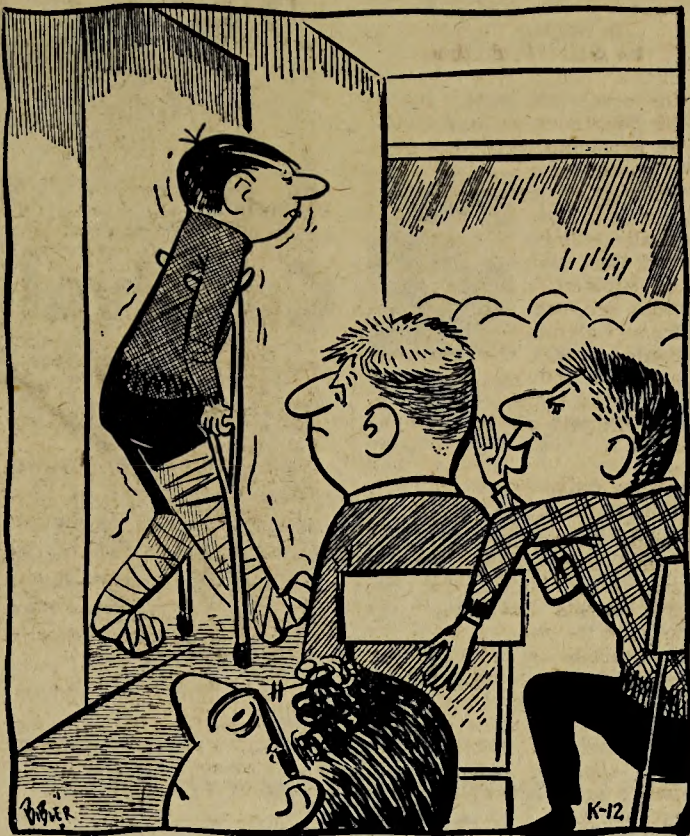

March 21 is the date of the Student Body sponsored Carnival. For those of you who missed last year's affair, instructor John Jewell donated the key to a girls' dorm to be sold to the highest bidder. The question now is, how high will he bid this year to get it back?

Question of the week: Have chess tournaments really replaced couples in Fuchs Lounge?

College Students

They're always in their rooms;
Like hibernating bears,
They never budge an inch;
They're always on their chairs.
They eat their breakfast quick,
Before the rooster crows.
And why the strict routine,
This no one ever knows.
You find them reading soon
With both eyes in their book;
They only take time out
To give their girl a look.
While they sit in class,
They function as machines,
Recording all the data
Which from the teacher gleams.
Then back into their rooms,
Like hibernating bears—
With eyelids nearly closed,
They fall right off their chairs.

Hot-Shooting Knox Erases Knight's Bid 88-84

By Wilbur Flachman

The old "third time is a charm" adage didn't old true for coach Ax Bundgaard and his Wartburg basketball team at Brookings, S.D., last night.

Bundgaard's Knights dropped their third consecutive close contest in opening round NCAA small college tourney play. This time it was to a hot shooting Midwest Conference champ, Knox College. The Siwashers from Galesburg, Ill., cut the cords at a 50% clip, but it took a basket and two free throws in the last eight seconds to put the Knights on the sidelines, 88-84.

Faubel Foils Bid

Gordon Faubel, Knox forward, turned out to be the thorn in Wartburg's side, tossing in the winning goal, after the Knights' Dave Jensen had knotted the count at 84-84. Two free throws by Denny Gerahety only added salt to the wound after the final buzzer.

Both clubs jumped off to a rapid start and seemed to have each other well parred until four minutes were left in the opening half. Then the Knights felt the lid clamped on the basket for a brief spell and suddenly found themselves on the short end of a 45-37 halftime showing, when the Siwashers connected with four straight from the floor. Knox, shooting brilliantly, made good on 18 of 36 attempts in the initial period, while the Knights settled for a meager 16 of 45.

Torrid Tuecke Tallies

Knox maintained margins up to 10 points throughout three-fourths of the final half. Only spectacular shooting by Wartburg's John Tuecke, who ended the game with his season high total of 31, kept the losers in contention.

With four minutes to go the clock still read Knox 78; Wartburg 68; but Bundgaard called for a time out and sent his charges in again with word to put the pressure on. That they did, narrowing the gap to 81-80 with about one minute to go. The Siwashers hit on a fielder and charity toss, matched by John Luthro's two gifters, which set the stage for Jensen's tie-maker.

Siwash Strategy Pays

Knox elected to wait for a last chance shot and Fauble made the move pay off with the clincher. Gerahety intercepted the Knights final pass, was fouled and dunked the free ones for the final 88-84 score. He also was top scorer for the Siwashers with 20 markers. Gary Hoops notched 18 and CHARTERED BUS carried Knight basketball squad to Brookings Thursday morning.

Jim Schwarz (standing) and John Luthro find something amusing as card champ Schwarz sets up "Hearts" table. Others are manager Don Sahling, Reuben Drefs, Marv Ott (standing) and Norm Remmers.

Faubel 15 for the victors. Jensen supplemented Tuecke's outstanding performance with 20 tallies and Darwin Oehlerich, stellar frosh, chipped in with 13 vital points for Wartburg.

Knox climaxed with 33 buckets in 64 shots for a very torrid 52% shooting. Knights centered the hoops on 34 occasions, but fired up 84 times from the floor for a 40% showing.

Enthusiasm Via Wire

Approximately four hundred students and fans collected in Knights Gym to hear the broadcast on direct wire from Brookings. Weather conditions prevented all Wartburg followers from reaching the game site.

The Knights will now run against the loser of the South Dakota State-Augustana contest, tonight at 7. Knox will move up opposite the winner, with the winner of this round moving to Evanston, Ind. for the NCAA finale next week.

Cagers Eclipse 2 School Marks

Wartburg tabbed its 11th straight game, thereby setting a school record last Saturday night when the Knights downed Iowa Wesleyan 78-69.

John Tuecke led the Knights with 28 points to give Wartburg a 20-4 overall school record. Andy Henderson paced the Mt. Pleasant five with 21. Knights ended conference play in first place with a 14-2 record.

Wartburg piled up a 36-27 lead in the first half and then went on to win by the same margin.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Wartburg diamond coach Earnest Oppermann presently has his baseball squad working out in the warm, friendly confines of Knights Gym. Oppie already has a wealth of talent out, and more candidates are expected to put in their bids when the basketball season concludes.

Most of the talent, however, is young and green. Only three senior lettermen will be in the lineup for the Oppiemens this season. Denny Wessels, Wayne Slack and Darwin Fritz have been quad-year performers. Slack led the Knight stickmen at the plate last spring.

Oldest hurlers on hand this year will probably all be sophs. Marv Ott, Arlie Saathoff and Dave Siefkes served mound duty and will be in their second campaign of college baseball this spring. Terry Exner and Darrol Bauer were frosh regulars in '58.

Track mentor Bob Campbell is racing his men and his motor in anticipation of the coming season. Campbell has accelerated Ed Skay back to bring home dash honors this spring. Skay, a sophomore, captured Iowa Conference firsts in the 220- and 100-yard dashes last season.

Big Chuck Wallin is available to open a few eyes in the weight events this season, and if a few frosh distance men join the ranks, the Campbellmen could be tough on the Iowa loop cinderpaths.

A warm-up meet is set for Tuesday in the Teachers fieldhouse at Cedar Falls.

Squire cagers wrapped up their current schedule last week and recorded a 10-7 season in doing so. The Squires, also tutored by Bob Campbell, were paced in scoring by Carl Bartenhagen from Grandview. Dean Holst, one of the Keystone Kids, trailed close behind him in the hooping department.

Five times this season the freshmen basketballers tallied over ninety points. On two more occasions their total ran over eighty counters.

Wrestlers will wrap up their finest season in history with appearances in the NAIA and NCAA national meets. Coach Norm Johansen, who is fast approaching a win complex after the productive mat and grid seasons, will take his grapplers to DeKalb, Ill., for the NAIA affair on March 20-21, and follow with an entry in the NCAA at Iowa City the next weekend.

The Wessel (Gil)-Wessels (Denny) combination, which has functioned so effectively on the hardcourts for the Knights the past four years, will continue to operate. The duo has been accepted by Med School at the U. of Iowa.

Oops!

We goofed!

Everyone on campus has a different schedule, and we proved it last week. At least ours was different from grappling coach Norm Johansen's. As a result we carried a story that the wrestling slate would be completed last Saturday. Actually the schedule was completed on Friday. P. S. Jo's boy's won, anyway.

Tues. Convo By Waverly H.S. Band

Waverly High School Band, under the direction of Roland Brown, will present 40 minutes of music at Tuesday's convo this next week.

Included in the program are "Finale from Kalinnikov's Symphony in G Minor"; "French Military March" by Saint-Saens; "Symphonic Songs for Band, Third Movement, 'Celebration,'" Robert Russel Bennett; "A Colonial Rhapsody" by Edward Madden; selections from "The Music Man" by Meredith Wilson; "Dixieland Concerto" by John Worthington; "Trumpet's Wild (Trio)" by Harold Walters; Tchaikowski's "Waltz from 'Eugene Onegin'"; "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," Jerome Kern; "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," Bach.

Student body and faculty meetings are scheduled for Thursday's convo.

Winter Is Icumen Back!

"WE'LL DIG those cars out come spring." Twelve inch snowfall Thursday made it hard to find your vehicle. Driving was still another matter.

Play Money Is Real

Attention, all writers and aspiring playwrights!

Only one month remains until the deadline for entries for the All-Iowa Collegiate Playwriting Contest, sponsored by the Wartburg Speech Department.

Winner of the contest will receive $25 and the pleasure of seeing his play produced May 6, 8, 9. Second and third-place winners will receive $15 and $10 respectively, with possible production of their plays May 6, 8, 9.

Debaters Engaged In St. Thomas Tourney

Wartburg's debate team is being represented at the Northwest Debate Tournament at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., today by six members accompanied by their advisor, Robert Smith of the Speech Department.

Jim Eissinger, junior, and Ken Skala, sophomore, are representatives in the Men's Division. Meta Fokkenna, freshman; Deanna Stob, sophomore; Jackie Knoble, freshman, and Mary Wilharm, freshman, represent Wartburg in the Women's Division. All will debate four times Thursday and four times Friday.

Saturday morning they will have debated in the quarter and semifinals, and this afternoon they may be in the finals.

The debate topic this year is "Resolved, that the further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement."
